BELIEVE GERMANY PLANS OVERTHROW OF INVADERS

GERMAN COAL BARONS UNDER ARREST; IT IS BELIEVED GERMANS PLAN COUP IN RUHR; ALLIES WATCH EVERY MOVE

Paris, Jan. 20.—The French high command has information that leads it to fear the Germans will attempt a coup in the Ruhr in a few days, according to advices from Dusseldorf. Dispatches say the French officials have been advised that quantities of arms and ammunition have been secretly brought into the Ruhr by the Germans.

London, Jan. 20.—Allied authorities have been informed that German secret organizations are preparing an attack on the all-Allies troops occupying the Ruhr.

Essen, Jan. 20.—August Thyssen, industrial leader, and five German coal barons were arrested by the French today and transported under armed guard to Dusseldorf. This was done because they refused to meet the French demand and furnish coal for the benefit of the French.

EIGHTEEN MORE TO GO ON TRIAL FOR HERRIN MASSACRE

Marion, Ill., Jan. 20.—Williamson county today prepared for the second of the murder trials growing out of the Herrin massacre last June.

They are prepared to prosecute the second case at any time the court is ready. C. W. Middlekauff, special district attorney, declared today.

With the first trial resulting in the acquittal of the five men charged with the murder of Howard Hoffmann, the state plans to call for the second case the eighteen men indicted for the murder of Anton Mulkovitch during the riot.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Swoope have returned to their Curwensville home after having spent the past several weeks at Pinehurst, N. C.

ARMED BODY HOLDS CONTROL OVER LAW IN ARKANSAS RIOT

Harrison, Ark., Jan. 20.—Vigilantes, who seized control of the government in northern Arkansas, took leave of absence for a rest after a week of activities, which included the lynching of E. C. Gregor.

The mass of farmers and business men from up and down the valley gathered here Monday on verified alleged sabotage against the Missouri and North Arkansas Railroad were drifting homeward for a rest before again taking up the reigns of government. A committee declared they probably would continue their government control until after the county grand jury adjourns in July.

J. Mitchell Chase, Esq., has returned from a six weeks visit with his wife's people in South Carolina.

Congress Has Many Bills, But May Postpone All Action

PROSPECT IS FOR NO CHANGE IN IMMIGRATION LAWS THIS SESSION—FLOOD FROM SOUTH EUROPE CONTINUES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—Assurances were given today by Republicans, Democrats and Progressives that an extra session of the new Congress soon after March 4th is extremely unlikely.

The decision to give the Nation a rest after nine months of actual legislative activities means:

First, there will be no action taken toward amendment of the Esch-Cummins Railroad Supervision bill until 1924. Second, only the Lenroot-Anderson and Capper bills will be negotiated to aid the farmers. Third, the Ship Subsidy faces certain death and shipping will have to be handled in the new, 1924 Congress, if at all.

By WILLIAM J. LOSH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHAPTER IV

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 (United Press).—Congress' reaction to the clamor of both factions in the present uproar over the immigration law will probably be to defer all action of any kind at least until 1924, it appeared here today.

Beset on one hand by a group of interests which demands the undoing of the work Congress felt necessary two years ago, and on the other by a class which, while restrictionist, begs for a new kind of restriction the inevitable conservatism of the body will dictate continued intensive study of the problem and no action this session.

For the present year, then, if this course is followed, industry must struggle along with its labor shortage as best it can and the race-viewers must continue to view with alarm our present flood of so called "undesirable types" from Southern Europe.

Neither group has as much cause for concern, these statistics for last year would indicate. Late statistics compiled by the Labor Department reveal a cessation of the exodus of laborers. Whatever laborers enter in the immigration flow will thus be a gain to industry. Immigration is increasing slightly from the northern countries—they are using up more of their quota, though there is no corresponding decrease in the flood from the south.

Expect 275,000

Prospects for the flow this year are that out of the 356,995 immigrants admissible, possibly 27,000 will enter. In the past fiscal year 243,953 were admitted. The gain will come from the Northern European countries.

President Harding has recommended to Congress the adoption of a selective immigration law, whereby immigration would be subjected to examination in foreign ports before they embark for this country. Secretary of Labor Davis has prepared the bill, and it will shortly be submitted to Congress.

Chairman Albert Johnson, Washington, of the House Immigration Committee has proposed a "600" minimum plus 2 per cent restriction law.

HERRIN DEFENDANTS JUDGED NOT GUILTY IN FIRST OF CASES

Marion, Ill., Jan. 19.—After nearly 27 hours deliberation a jury of Williamson county farmers today delivered a verdict of not guilty in the first case resulting from the killing of non-union workers during the Herrin riots last June.

The end of the long trial came suddenly that both spectators and the defendants who were charged with the murder appeared dazed. As Judge D. C. Martwell finished reading the last verdict, the only sound that broke the silence in the court room, was a half smothered laugh from one of the defendants.

Spring Housecleaning Inaugurated At The County Jail This Week. --- Hatch's Remarks Are Very Destructive --- To The Bedbugs

We feel safe in saying that the most destructive after dinner oratory ever listened to in Clearfield was the recent talk on the Clearfield county jail by Rev. Richard Allen Hatch of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, before the Clearfield Rotary Club.

Rev. Hatch (et)'s "cutting remarks" were primarily responsible for the greatest loss of life in the recent history of Clearfield county, the entire extent of which can be imagined, the impossible of count. In making this observation we approach the subject guardedly and like the spectators at the holocaust with fear and trembling.

But this is the how and why of it all. Some time ago, and following Rev. Hatch's remarks, it will be remembered Sheriff Lowell "took the County Commissioners to jail," and while what they saw there confirmed them in their belief that "the jail was alright," they must have found a lot of things in and about it that were all wrong because they (the Commissioners) resolved to do their spring house cleaning early this year. That

EIGHT PERISH IN LAWRENCE, MASS. TENEMENT FIRE

Mother Loses Life By Running Back Into the Building In Attempt to Save Her Children.

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 20.—Eight persons perished in a tenement house fire here early today in which two were injured, one seriously.

The fire started in a club house on the first floor and swept to the third and one-half story tenement on Elm street.

The dead are: Mrs. Angelo DeGloria and her four children, Rose, aged 10; Joseph and Natalie, aged seven and Mary, aged three; Isaac Reysa, aged 70; Romano Reysa, aged 25, and Mrs. Mary Palig, aged 55.

The injured are Angelo DeGloria, with a broken back, and Joseph Garvey, fireman, broken wrist.

Mrs. DeGloria had been rescued from the flames but she eluded the firemen and fled back into the burning structure in search of her children. Later her body and those of her children were found. They told a mute and tragic story of what had happened. She had found the children and attempted to lead them to safety. She lost her way in the dense smoke and started into a kitchen on the third floor. There she gathered her little brood around her and died with the children, strangled by the hot smoke and fire.

Her husband dropped from the third floor, landing on his back on the hard pavement, and is in the hospital in a critical condition.

COOK TRACT MAY NOT BE BOUGHT BY PENNSYLVANIA

The State Forestry Commission has declared acquisition of the Cook forest tract along the Clarion river in Jefferson, Forest and Elk counties as inadvisable at a price of $83 an acre. The Department has a limit for purchase of forest lands and the average price of land purchased has been $2.28 an acre. The Commission refused the request of the McKean Commissioners to reconsider its action in classifying the 6,654 acres of the Armstrong forest company's land as an auxiliary forest reserve.

SMALL PERCENTAGE OF MURDERERS IN PHILA. CONVICTED

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 20. (U. P.)—One hundred and twenty-six murderers were committed in Philadelphia in 1922 as compared with 101 the previous year, according to Superintendent of Police Mills. This is an increase of approximately 25 per cent. For the 126 murders, 97 arrests were made, with 19 convictions resulting. Eleven bills were dismissed by the grand jury and twelve persons tried for murder were acquitted.

11 INSURGENTS ARE PUT TO DEATH BY IRISH FREE STATE

Dublin, Jan. 20.—Eleven insurgents were executed in Ireland today for offenses against the Free State Government.

Five were executed in Athlone for carrying arms it was officially announced.

Dispatches from Limerick stated two were executed there for train attacks and carrying arms. Four were executed at Talle.

Eternal Vigilance Is Keeping Down Spread Of Contagious Disease

Eternal vigilance upon the part of both parents and health authorities is keeping down the spread of contagion in Clearfield. Secretary Gaulin of the Health Board states that during the past week but four cases of contagious disease were reported to the Board of Health. During the same period four cases were also released from quarantine.

There is at present a total of 16 cases of contagion under quarantine in the town. They are located as follows:

First Ward: Diphtheria 2.
Second Ward: Measles 1, diphtheria 2, scarlet fever 2.
Third Ward: Diphtheria 2, scarlet fever 2.
Fourth Ward: Diphtheria 1, scarlet fever 3.

LOWE MUSIC AND FURNITURE STORE BURN AT PUNXSUTAWNEY

Fire last night inflicted a $30,000 loss in Punxsutawney. The principal building destroyed was the large two-story structure on Mahoning street in the heart of the business district occupied by the Lowe Music company and the Robinson Furniture company. The loss divided between the two firms who owned the building will total about $20,000 and the destruction of small buildings, damage to nearby blocks and tenants will raise the total to near the first named figure.

Both the Lowe company and Robinson's succeeded in saving practically their entire stock. At Lowe's all the pianos and victrolas were gotten out, the only stock consumed being 300 records and some fixtures. Robinson's did almost as well, volunteer helpers carrying out practically all the furniture in the store.

The second floor of the Lowe side was occupied as a dwelling by Mrs. Bessie Rishel and most of her household effects were saved.

The fire was discovered at about 10 o'clock, when the Lowe room at the rear was a mass of flame. The firemen put up a good fight and had the flames out by 12 o'clock.

Hamilton's drug store suffered some damage as did the Punxsutawney hospital and several nearby buildings. A barn containing a hearse was destroyed. The Lowe-Robinson building was built 35 years ago, mostly of pine and it burned fiercely. The owners carried a moderate insurance.

The flames put many electric wires out of commission and for a while a portion of the town was in darkness.

GIRL SCOUT RALLY AT HIGH SCHOOL AT 3 P. M. TOMORROW

Girl Scouts! Future Girl Scouts! Mothers of Girl Scouts! Sisters of Girl Scouts! Mothers of future Girl Scouts! Take notice! You are hereby invited and urged to attend the biggest Girl Scout rally that has ever been held in Clearfield at the High School auditorium on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 21st at 3 o'clock. Miss Laura Holland, regional director of the Girl Scout movement in Pennsylvania, is coming to Clearfield just to conduct this rally and to explain to the people of Clearfield what Girl Scouting means and what it stands for. To mothers particularly this should be a most interesting meeting, although fathers are also welcome.

Clearfield is now an integral part of the national Girl Scout organization which represents an enrollment of more than 100,000 American girls and upwards of 5,000 captains. Under the leadership of Miss Margaret Leighton, director of Clearfield Community Service, nine troops have been organized in Clearfield with a total enrollment of more than 100 girls. The troops meet regularly each week at the Community Service Scout home on Locust street and most of the girls have now passed the fifteen-foot test. The captains are Mrs. W. S. Bouton, Mrs. Clarence Johnston, Mrs. George Brett, Miss Grace Butler, Miss Amelia Butler, Miss Margaret Wilson, Mrs. Charles Chas. Captains are hereby urged to make sure that their troops are 100 per cent. present at the rally.

Let us make sure that Clearfield will show its interest and appreciation of Miss Holland's visit by packing the High School auditorium on Sunday afternoon. This is your invitation.

LEGISLATURE WILL BE ASKED TO ADD TO STATE PRISONS

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 20. (U. P.)—A bill providing for a new Eastern Penitentiary with farm lands for the convicts, will be introduced in the present session of the legislature at the request of the board of inspectors of the institution. This action, according to the board, is made imperative by the lack of sufficient accommodations at the present prison. The bill will carry with it an appropriation for the purchase of necessary ground.

The Eastern Penitentiary now has 1,700 prisoners, and about 800 cells. Provision will be made at the new institution for sufficient accommodations and also to allow for the employment of every inmate.

MARRIED AT HOLLIDAYSBURG

A marriage license was issued to Lloyd Lansberry and Ethel Shirey, both of Clearfield, at Hollidaysburg Thursday last.

CLEARFIELD FIVE TOO FAST FOR THE GROUNDHOG CITY

Showing flashes of real form early in the tight guarding system that opened up but twice for close baskets, Clearfield High won its sixth game out of seven starts, when the fighting Punxsutawney High passers took the small out of a 38 to 13 score at the High School gym last evening. The game was close and highly exciting during the first ten minutes of play, but Jack Conches Reed and Mahoney's teams hit up a fast passing game—clear, snappy passes—the visitors were quickly left in the rack so far as the game went. The score at half time stood 13 to 5 in Clearfield's favor.

Locals Show Class In Second Half

The second half was just plain right, when Capt. Freddie White dropped a pretty basket in from beyond the center ring, leading the teammates into a burst of energy playing which, while not adding to the points to their total, kept the locals on their toes. Clearfield played up with some accurate work, plays, which piled up the locals in short order. When Coach saw how well the regulars were playing the crack Punxsutawney five down, he rushed in his quintet of reserves, who not only held their own but displayed an advanced type of defensive play.

The Red and Blues play last evening was impressive when the visitors that this same Punxsutawney team defeated DuBois last week, and which stepped out from the speedy Keweenawville squad 39 to 25 last evening.

Team Developing Rapidly

The local coaching system has been to develop at least two good teams in every position, and as it takes time to do this, DuBois' early season request over C. H. S. found the high squad unprepared for sudden shifts when injuries demanded. However, now, a fast, well-balanced reserve squad is being groomed for action upon a minute's notice.

Hody Johnson Leads Scoring

Hody Johnson led the locals in point scoring with a total of 18 points, five field goals and 8 fouls out (Continued on Page Six)

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The luckiest moonshiner to "shine" around these diggings in many a moon is now on his way to bank in the sunny clime of Southern California, while Clearfield county taxpayers are paying three-fourths of the transportation charges for himself and his good wife to far off Los Angeles.

The fellow in question is Jesse Spencer, a well known character about the southwestern end of the county for many years. Jesse, who had been out on the Pacific slope for some time, sloped back into Pennsylvania several years ago when the I. W. W. became so decidedly unpopular in the far west. We don't know whether Jesse was a "wobblie" or not when he was out there or whether that helped him to get back here or not, but at any rate he was charged with preaching the creed of the "wobblies" quite strenuously after his arrival here for a time.

He located in Sandy township and being of rather a versatile turn of mind when Andy Volstead told us what we could drink and how much, Jesse promptly turned his attention to the lucrative business of moonshining. He turned out what Jesse himself said was the best grade of "shine" produced in the entire region. As proof of Jesse's boast, the trade wore a path to his door, and said path resulted in Jesse's temporary downfall but incidentally provided him free transportation to the edge of the Pacific. (Jesse would have located his place of assignment or consignment even beyond the confines of the Pacific's nearest edge were it not for the fact that he had mislaid his wading boots for the time being.)

But to get back to that path. A snooping minion of the law happened onto the trail or indentation made in the greenward by Jesse's many customers, followed that path even unto the end and finding Jesse ensconced in affluence while dealing out the "hard stuff" at "$2 more per gallon than anyone else was getting by reason of its superior quality," thereupon placed the expert shiner under arrest.

Jesse was brought over to Clearfield and on his promise to do better (not "make" better) in the future, was allowed to return home. Time hung heavily on Jesse's hands and finding it a hard job for an old dog to acquire new tricks, he was soon back at his old camp, chief of which as you will be doubt agree by now, was "making better." He persisted and soon the caravans were stopping at his door as of yore, while the stream of amber colored fluid flowed gently in the direction of the thirsty customer with a corresponding stream of filthy lucre finding its way into Jesse's grasping palms. All good things come to an end finally and envious neighbors were instrumental in having County Detective Snyder call upon the moonshiner and have him again present himself in open criminal court to answer for his short-comings.

Jesse came, he saw and conquered—his emotions long enough to tell Judge Bell, between sobs, that he ought not to be punished for what he had been doing, advancing the following reasons for such belief:—

1. He needed the money.
2. He didn't think he was doing any harm.

3. He made first-class liquor, because he was experienced and knew how.

4. Because his stuff was admittedly superior to any other moonshine made in the entire DuBois region.

5. As proof of statement No. 4 he would inform the Court that all the clubs in DuBois were his customers and were paying him $2.00 per gallon more than they were paying any other moonshiner.

Judge Bell listened patiently to Jesse's tearful wall and then directed that he be fined $100 and costs and serve six months in jail.

Jesse sat down and shed copious tears for a minute or two. When he had again conquered his ready flow of tears the husky old moonshiner arose and said: "Judge, I could get a job 'herding bees' out in Los Angeles, California, and as it would cost $270 to take myself and my wife out there, if the county will put up $150 of that amount I will rustle around and dig up the balance and light out at once for the Pacific coast never more to return to Clearfield county."

At this point County Commissioner Weimer and County Solicitor Woodward, who were present, horned in and informed the Court that Jesse's wife, who is an invalid, was receiving $10 per month from the county and if Jesse was sent to "Bad Bug College" for six months it would mean a greater outlay for the county and if the Court would suspend the jail sentence the county would provide Jesse with the desired $150 and let him be with his bees in the future.

The upshot of the matter was this arrangement was made, Jesse got his $150 and went his way rejoicing. We give this history of the case merely to show in passing that while it is always best to travel in the straight and narrow path, though the road be rocky and hard to follow, some times the way of the transgressor, while not a bed of roses, may lead to land of sunshine and roses if you have to have your feet and toes miles across our American soil to "git that."

There is nothing to be surprised at in the news of today the Germans are watching for an opportunity to overthrow the French invaders and that they have well-laid plans to carry out the attempt.

If Germany has been noted for anything at all, it has been for treachery, double-dealing and craftiness.

Some may call it brainy, shrewd and cunning, but we feel that harsher words better describe the mentality of the German.

We cannot help but remember what France suffered when Germany triumphed over her a half century ago and, had Germany won the conflict which ended in 1918, not only France but all of Europe would today have been paying for the war. Every family outside of the imperial empire would have been reduced to sackcloth and ashes. That was their haughty fate and we must take them at their word.

We have seen enough of conflict, but should she attempt to throw out the invaders, here is hoping that France finishes what the armistice stopped all too soon.

Health conditions in Clearfield are better than for some weeks, although three cases of diphtheria developed within the last seven days. The Board of Health is doing everything in its power to wipe out this scourge and every citizen should aid them.

It would be well right now to give some attention to keeping down flies next summer. This job is strictly up to the property owners and the housewives. If you are a property owner, make up your mind right now to be right on the job next spring with lime and oil for the puddles left when the snow goes off. If you are a housewife, burn all your kitchen refuse such as coffee grains and leftovers, instead of throwing them out the back door.

There is nothing Dutch about the name of Hatch, so we can hardly dub the Rev. Mr. Hatch as "Old Dutch Cleanser," but in view of the activity about the jail the last few days he certainly did start a Spring housecleaning campaign in this city about three months ahead of schedule. Perhaps it was a related Fall housecleaning.

Every day we hear of accidents and near-accidents to the silly persons making up sleighing parties and it occurs to us that on these silly occasions, when everyone is light-hearted and careless, are loaded with possible accidents of the most serious nature.

Correct interpretation of law, although we believe there has been no decision covering the drivers of sleighing parties, would be that they are common carriers and have no right to operate on the state roads without legal permit. We are not going to press this point for it would be a mighty mean man that would put anything in the way of such an enjoyable pastime.

However, it is incumbent on the driver of a sleighing party to protect his passengers, not alone by careful driving and conduct, but by light signals against automobile traffic.

Our public roads are so hilly and twisty that an automobile, without traveling at a high rate of speed, can easily crash into a loaded, slow moving bobsled which has no lights.

If you are going on a sledload insist that lanterns are carried on both the front and rear of the sled and caution everyone on the load to keep their feet and legs away from the lanterns so that the automobile driver can see them and slow up his speed.

The automobile is forced to carry lights, both front and rear, and all vehicles traveling at night should do likewise.

PINCHOT SENDS HIS BUDGET TO PRINTER WITH PLANS MADE

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 20.—The new administration finished its first week today with its cumulative program of "economy, reorganization and prohibition enforcement" well under way. The new budget providing for expenditures during the next two years of twenty-eight million dollars less than that authorized by the 1921 legislature was in the hands of the printer.

Governor Pinchot will take it in person before the Legislature probably next week.

Harrisburg, Jan. 19.—Governor Pinchot tonight sent the first Pennsylvania state budget to the printer, and will ask the legislature for permission to appear before it next week to address the law making body on the budget and what it means. Beyond saying that the budget would be for a total of less than 29 million dollars and cover everything payable out of the general fund the governor declined to forecast the measure. "I intend to outline the whole matter to the legislature," he said. The governor said he could not say how many state employees would be dismissed.

Instead of showing through appropriation bill after appropriation bill in the closing hour of the session after an open session of log-rolling and endless wrangle, the 1923 legislature is to be asked to get down to considering a general appropriation bill early in the session. Furthermore that bill will preclude everything else and will take half the spool out of the life of every member who has his three or four bills to introduce proposing a "few thousands" for this or that institution. This is in fact the meaning of today's budget announcement.

The general opinion is that the new method of paying for charities in basis of service rendered described in this column more than a month ago, is to be the basis on which this feature of state activity will be handled.

The Governor, it is believed, has settled on a lump sum which can be devoted to charities. Who gets the money and how much depends on who writes the service and how much. If it can be one case, the effect will be felt in every section of the state. He did indicate, however, that no budget, except possibly the first national, had received more attention and thought than the one he proposes to submit. He referred specifically to the thousands of dollars worth of compiling and study done on this subject by experts since last May. The money for this came from private contributions. It is against such a formidable array of facts and figures that Capitol Hill Department heads strive in vain to establish their alibis and it is such a carefully planned scheme that legislative opposition will encounter. The chief also made it plain that this is not a budget bill. That is to some later. Under Pennsylvania laws a Governor may or may not submit a budget. There is nothing to compel nor prevent. The fate of proposition will rest with the Legislature. It may do as it sees fit but the general impression is that it will be reported out of committee and passed.

In addition to his "budgeteering" the Governor named Paul W. Houck as temporary chairman of the Compensation Board and promoted Lewis

MRS. WILSON HOOVER DIES AT FARM HOME

Mrs. Harriett A. (Dinges) Hoover died at her home in Cooper township on Thursday, Jan. 11th, aged 73 years, 1 month and 6 days. Two of her brothers James D. and John Dinges, passed away within the past six months. The deceased was born at Grahamsport. On May 22, 1870, she was united in marriage to Wilson Hoover, the couple at once moving to the farm home in Cooper township, where they have since resided continuously, a period of over fifty-two years.

Besides the husband, who has passed his eightieth milestone in his journey through life, Mrs. Hoover is survived by two sons, Walter, of Williamsport and Oscar at home and a daughter, Laura, wife of W. P. Meeker of Clearfield, Pa. The following brothers and sisters are also living: Lincoln, of Peale; Mrs. Clara Moyer, of Viaduct; Mrs. L. Steinback, of Munson; Mrs. John Hoover, of near Munson and Mrs. Theodore Hoffman, of Morris township.

A good christian woman and a faithful member of the Methodist church for sixty years Mrs. Hoover was held in high esteem in her home community where she was so well and favorably known. She was a faithful wife and an affectionate and loving mother, as well as a worthy neighbor, ever ready and willing to extend a helping hand or perform an act of kindness. Her death is mourned by a large circle of friends.

Funeral services were held at the Hoover home on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 14th and were in charge of her pastor E. L. Ritzman. Burial was made in Sylvan Grove cemetery.

E. Staley, one of his mainstays in the Forestry Department, to be deputy commissioner. Staley is a department veteran with 17 years' service. The Governor is going to be on the job tomorrow in his office and has a number of state officials scheduled to meet with him.

THERE SHOULD BE NO MISUNDERSTANDING

Dear Editor:

Not wishing to get into a controversy over the LaPenna case quoted by Com. Nelson of the V. F. W. when we have one over in the hospital now on the broad of his back, one in Berwindale mentally unbalanced, and one in Bradford Twp, who is mentally ill, neither of whom have ever been able to get a cent of compensation, who need help now more than our friend LaPenna does. We must say for Com. Nelson's benefit that Government channels for help are very slow, but they are finally being cleared up and will work out.

At least 200 cases of compensation and vocational training are being taken care of in this vicinity, with pay ranging from $15.00 to $150.00 a month. Every month personal contact is made in these cases by a nurse or placement officer of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

Dutch Brienze was immediately taken up thru the Secretary of the Veterans' Claim Committee of the Am. Legion and in two days was in the Philadelphia Hospital for the mentally unbalanced ex-servicemen. Only one case of merit can be recalled by the Secretary that has not been taken care of, but it is thru a misunderstanding and not neglect.

The people of Clearfield have never refused to give assistance to ex-servicemen when asked, if the case merited assistance.

LaPenna was not a Clearfield county man; he was receiving full vocational of at least $80.00 a month while here. He was placed in training in Cambria County and wanted transferred here to Clearfield which transfer was made by the Veterans' Bureau. It was indeed to be deplored when LaPenna lost his mind but it was not thru neglect. He was examined by doctors every three months, and receiving full pay. The Veterans Bureau sent a nurse here to take LaPenna to Patton, Pa., but his brother had taken him up the day before the nurse got here.

Of the 4,000,000 men that were in the service, a certain amount are senile and only come to light when they become mentally unbalanced or thru death.

The Government will only recognize the Red Cross, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Am. Legion in taking these cases up.

It is better to try and hunt some unfortunate buddy up and help him than to sit on a case that has been LaPenna was not neglected and he should have been sent to Phila. Asylum instead of the County Home, as he was supposed to have been, but wasn't.

In closing would say if any ex-servicemen has a claim or any one knows of some ex-servicemen in need, get in touch with a member of the Am. Legion, Veterans Foreign War, the Red Cross or John Bain. Thank you.

HOW ENGLAND SOLVED RAIL PROBLEM

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.
Member of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.
Editorial, 1912, Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR JANUARY 21

THE PRODIGAL SON

LESSON TEXT—Luke 15:11-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.—Luke 15:10.
PRIMER TOPIC—A Father's Love.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Father's Love.
SENIOR TOPIC—A Father's Love.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—A Father's Love.

I. The Son's Insubordination (v. 12).
There is every indication that this was a happy home. But a devil entered it and stirred up discontent in the heart of the younger son. He became tired of the restraints of home. His desire for freedom moved him to willfully choose to leave home—throw off the constraints of his father's rule. His desire to be free from the restraints of right authority and for selfish indulgence. It starts out with wrong thoughts about God. At the request of the son, the father "divided unto him his living."

II. The Son's Departure (v. 13).
Having made the final decision he got his goods in portable shape. Having thrown off the restraints of his father's rule he eagerly withdrew from his father's presence. This is always the way sin works. He "gathered all together." When the sinner casts off his allegiance to God he takes all that he has with him. He not only wastes his money, but his character is sacrificed.

III. The Son's Degeneration (v. 13-14).
He had a good time while his money lasted, but the end came quickly. The indications are that his course was a rapid one. From plenty in his father's house to destitution in the far country was a short journey. The sinner is soon made to realize the famine when his very powers which ministered to his pleasure are burned out.

IV. The Son's Degeneration (v. 15, 16).
He had no friends to help him when his money was all gone, so he was driven to hire out to a citizen to feed swine. "It was quite a change from a sonship in his father's house to feeding swine in the far country. So it is; those who will not serve God are made slaves to the devil to do his bidding (Rom. 6:16). In his shame and disgrace the prodigal could not even get the necessary food. The coarse food of the hogs was denied him.

V. The Son's Restoration (v. 17-24).
I. He Came to Himself (v. 17).
When he reflected a bit he was made conscious that, though he had wronged his father and ruined himself, yet he was a son of his father. In the days of his sinning he was beside himself. The world calls the sinner who leaves off his evil ways crazy, but in reality he just becomes sane. If we could but get sinners to think seriously of their condition it would be more easy to get them to turn from their sins.

2. His Resolution (v. 18).
His resolution ripened into resolution. The picture of his home, where even the hired servants had a superabundance, moved him to make a decision to leave the far country and go home.

3. His Confession (v. 18, 19).
He acknowledged that his sin was against heaven, and his father—that he had forfeited his right to be called a son, and begged to be given a place as a hired servant. The sinner not only should make a resolution; he should confess his sin; for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

4. His Action (v. 20).
Action was needed. Resolution will not avail unless accompanied with action.

5. His Reception by His Father (v. 20-24).
The father had not forgotten his son. During the years he longed for his return. He must often have looked for him, for he saw him when he was a great way off. So anxious was he for him that he ran to meet him and fell upon his neck and kissed him. So glad was the father that he even did not hear his confession through, but ordered the tokens of honor to be placed upon him, receiving him back into a son's position. This parable makes bare God's heart. Every teacher should strive to present this lesson so as to show God's forgiving mercy—His willingness to receive back His wayward child.

Two Classes.
The race is divided into two classes those who go ahead and do something, and those who sit still and inquire, "Why wasn't it done the other way?"—O. W. Holmes.

Taken From Evil to Come.
The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart; and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come.—Isaiah 57:1.

INTRODUCTION OF THE NEW FRANKLIN 4-DOOR SEDAN PRODUCES OVER-DEMAND

The national introduction of the Franklin 4-door sedan, taking place at every Franklin dealership point during the month of January, has its climax in a countrywide exhibition, centering around January 20. The importance of this event is borne out by the special display and demonstration program now being staged by the Market Street Auto Sales Co., Franklin dealer here.

The first appearance of this model, which has the distinction of being entirely new in the Franklin line, occurred at the New York Show last week and has recorded a success which has already created an over-demand at the big Franklin factory in Syracuse.

The new body style is marked by beauty of line common to the 1923 Franklin cars. The outstanding design features are the straight front, the four doors and the increase in roominess apparent in both front and rear compartments. The body is lower and its extra width makes possible seating space for three people both front and rear. The four-door sedan is designated as a five-passenger car, however. The principle of light weight has undergone further development in this latest Franklin, a reduction of fifty pounds having been made over the 1922 sedan. The fittings of the new body, which are done in polished duralumin with jet inlay, have been commented on as a new note in automobile detail.

While it has been generally known that Franklin was the first manufacturer to build a sedan in regular course of production, it has only recently come to light that the idea which encouraged the move developed twelve years ago during the automobile show of 1911. At that time, Franklin designers just returned from London and Paris shows, were struck by the predominance of open cars at New York, contrasted with the noticeable development of the closed car in Europe. A year or so later at the Boston show, the first Franklin sedan made its appearance and from that time on, output of this type at the Franklin factory has grown until, during the past year, it has represented 39 per cent. of Franklin's total production.

Among closed cars, the Franklin sedan enjoys the reputation of having unequalled touring ability. With the new model recently announced, an increase in power and speed has been secured, which is contributing to the popularity of the latest model. The Franklin with its pressure air-cooling system, is the one car whose sedan type provides complete weather protection of passengers and motor alike.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—[Broad-] of England, Wales and Scotland have just been amalgamated under the new railroad law into four great systems. Eighteen large and many small railroads are included. The transfer and amalgamation took place Jan. 1. The entire work will be completed by July.

All Britain is lauding the new law claimed to be the most enlightened, progressive and fair railroad bill ever passed by a modern state. Unlike the Esch-Cummings bill in the states, the British bill has drawn commendation from railroad owners, employees and users alike.

The bill was the direct outcome of England's experience during the war when the government took over the roads. It also aimed to compromise between owners who wanted complete control of their property and radicals who wanted the roads nationalized.

Eliminates Wasteful Competition
As passed by Parliament the bill was designed to eliminate wasteful competition—cost of which had to be paid by the consumer—and to give control so as to provide for economy good service and cheapness.

High speed provisions of the bill: RATES—To regulate both passenger and freight rates there is a rates tribunal composed of a lawyer chairman, an expert representing the railroads, and an expert representing the business men. The main function is from time to time to fix the standard charges. The standard revenue for each railway group is to be taken as the sum of its actual net revenues for 1913.

The standard charges are to be fixed so as to enable each group railway to earn this standard revenue, plus five per cent on capital that may have been expended since 1913. But receipt of this net revenue depends upon the efficiency and service given. If earnings exceed the standard

Can America Learn From England?

What's wrong with the railroads?

This comprehensive story by Milton Bronner, tells how England solved the problem by passing an amalgamation act which is called one of the most enlightened railroad bills ever passed.

Can a somewhat similar solution be applied to American lines?

HOW BRITISH RAILROADS HAVE BEEN AMALGAMATED

Under the new railroad law British railroads have been amalgamated into these four companies:

SOUTHERN RAILWAY. Serving southern and western England. Have practical monopoly on Channel resorts and Continental boat trains. Mileage, 2200; equipment 2270 locomotives, 10,604 passenger coaches and 38,433 freight cars.

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY. Serves west and middle England, including such cities as Birmingham, Bath, Bristol, Manchester, Plymouth, Liverpool etc.

LONDON, MIDLAND AND SCOTTISH RAILWAY. Serves 32 of the 40 counties of England and most of Scotland. Artery from coal fields. Owns 34 hotels and ship lines to northern Europe.

LONDON AND NORTH-EASTERN RAILWAY. Serves Eastern England and Scotland. Monopoly on textile cities and on great port cities of Tyne, Wear and Tees. Mileage, 7000; equipment, 7500 locomotives, 21,000 coaches and 300,000 freight cars.

reduced charges or improved facilities.

LABOR RELATIONS—Each railway is to have one or more councils consisting of company and employee representatives. Under this arrangement, one railway council and not more than five sectional railway councils, with local departmental committees for the discussion of local matters have been set up for each railway group. They consider matters of rates of pay, hours of duty and conditions of service and kindred subjects.

WAGES—Two tribunals are set up. First the Central Wages Board with appeal available to the National Wages Board. The Central Wages Boards is made up of eight representatives of the companies and eight employees, four being named by the National Union of Railwaymen, two by the Society of Engineers and Firemen and two by the Railway Clerks Association.

The National Wages Board is made up of six representatives of the railway companies; six representatives of the employees (two from each of the unions above mentioned) and four from the users of the railways.

One each of these is named by the Parliamentary Committee of the Trades Union Congress, by the Co-operative Union, by the Association of British Chambers of Commerce and by the Federation of British Industries.

This body is to be presided over by a chairman named by the minister of labor.

The emerald is one of the most beautiful of precious stones, and some of the finest specimens come from Peru. Among the ancient peoples of that country the stone was regarded as sacred.

To Harness the Jordan.
One of the great undertakings for reuniting Palestine is to use the swift current of the Jordan from Mount Hermon to the Dead sea to furnish electrical power for lights, railways, industrial and irrigation purposes.

23-YEAR-OLD "MOTHER" OF 128 BABIES!

Gives Up Youthful Pleasures to Head Orphanage

By JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT.
NEA Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Twenty-three years old and 128 babies to cuddle, feed and clothe!

That's the task confronting May Weisser, youthful superintendent of the Israel Orphan Asylum, who almost without warning, was whisked out of the institution's offices where for three years she served as a bookkeeper and told that henceforth the responsibility for the entire institution would be in her hands.

And without a regret for the parties, the good times, the clothes which other girls of her age consider indispensable, Miss Weisser has buckled down to the business of mending broken hearts and wiping the noses of the little homeless children of New York's East Side.

"Not a bit of it," smiles the exceedingly attractive young woman who, if looks and charm and disposition count for anything, requires none of Mr. Coles' self-improving devices.

"Every woman wants a home and here I have one all ready for me with 128 children in it. I'm going to make it a real home, too—with bird cages and window boxes and everything."

The bird cages and window boxes along with diminutive tables, nursery pictures, Dutch blue china and other paraphernalia which Miss Weisser considers every orphan's rightful heritage are already being installed in the asylum. And so successful have her devices been that older and much larger institutions have written to ask her how she does it.

MISS MAY WEISSER, 23-YEAR-OLD ORPHAN ASYLUM SUPERINTENDENT.

It was Justice Gustave Hartman, faithfulness over small things, love of children, tact and ability to handle other people were some of the qualities which he enumerated.

Woman Identifies Deputy Sheriff As One Of Hooded Gang

Bastrop, La., Jan. 20.—Mrs. B. Carlisle today positively identified T. Burnett, former Deputy Sheriff, a life long acquaintance as one of the black hooded mob that kidnapped Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards and three others shortly before the murder of Daniel and Richards.

This identification, the third in the "mob terror" probe here came as a climax of startling facts in the last twenty-four hours in Northern Louisiana, including the shooting of John Parker, Jr., a former Sheriff, alleged by Perry Calhoun, a witness in the open hearing.

Parker died today, authorities state. Their advice did not state definitely what the immediate cause of the shooting was.

MORRISDALE FOLKS IN DOUBLE SOCIAL EVENT

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Luther, Sr., of Morrisdale, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on Tuesday, January 9, 1923, and on the same day, at 9 o'clock in the morning, their daughter, Miss Mary, was united in marriage to Steve Blasko, of Philipsburg.

The wedding ceremony took place in St. Agnes Catholic church at Morrisdale, the Rev. E. J. Fischer performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Annie Luther and the groomsmen were John Blasko.

Attired in a silk satin dress, trimmed in georgette, the bride looked very pretty. Her mother, the bride of 25 years ago, wore a navy blue suit.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the Luther home. Many pretty and useful gifts came to the bride, and congratulations were showered upon the newlyweds as well as upon the bride's parents in completing twenty-five years of their wedded life.

It is the wish of the friends of the newlyweds that when they celebrate their silver anniversary the parents of the bride will be with them again and as happily enjoy their golden wedding anniversary.

Water If Kidneys Hurt

Take a tablespoonful of Salts If
Back pains or Bladder
bothers.

Too much meat may produce uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid; they become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys "acide" and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back, or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning, and in a few days your kidneys may set fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to help neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to help to keep the kidneys clean and active. Drink plenty of water at all times.

BELIEVE GERMANY PLANS OVERTHROW OF INVADERS

GERMAN COAL BARONS UNDER ARREST; IT IS BELIEVED GERMANS PLAN COUP IN RUHR; ALLIES WATCH EVERY MOVE

Paris, Jan. 20.—The French high command has information that leads it to fear the Germans will attempt a coup in the Ruhr in a few days, according to advices from Dusseldorf. Dispatches say the French officials have been advised that quantities of arms and ammunition have been secretly brought into the Ruhr by the Germans.

London, Jan. 20.—Allied authorities have been informed that German secret organizations are preparing an attack on the all-Allies troops occupying the Ruhr.

Essen, Jan. 20.—August Thyssen, industrial leader, and five German coal barons were arrested by the French today and transported under armed guard to Dusseldorf. This was done because they were thought to meet the French demand and furnish coal for the benefit of the French.

EIGHTEEN MORE TO GO ON TRIAL FOR HERRIN MASSACRE

Marion, Ill., Jan. 20.—Williamson county today prepared for the second of the murder trials growing out of the Herrin massacre last June.

They are prepared to prosecute the second case at any time the court is ready. C. W. Middlekauff, special district attorney, declared today.

With the first trial resulting in the acquittal of the five men charged with the murder of Howard Hoffmann, the state plans to call for the second case the eighteen men indicted for the murder of Anton Mulkovitch during the riot.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Swoope have returned to their Curwensville home after having spent the past several weeks at Pinehurst, N. C.

ARMED BODY HOLDS CONTROL OVER LAW IN ARKANSAS RIOT

Harrison, Ark., Jan. 20.—Vigilantes, who seized control of the government in northern Arkansas, took leave of absence for a rest after a week of activities, which included the lynching of E. C. Gregor.

The mass of farmers and business men from up and down the valley gathered here Monday on verified alleged sabotage against the Missouri and North Arkansas Railroad were drifting homeward for a rest before again taking up the reigns of government. A committee declared they probably would continue their government control until after the county grand jury adjourns in July.

J. Mitchell Chase, Esq., has returned from a six weeks visit with his wife's people in South Carolina.

Congress Has Many Bills, But May Postpone All Action

PROSPECT IS FOR NO CHANGE IN IMMIGRATION LAWS THIS SESSION—FLOOD FROM SOUTH EUROPE CONTINUES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—Assurances were given today by Republicans, Democrats and Progressives that an extra session of the new Congress soon after March 4th is extremely unlikely.

The decision to give the Nation a rest after nine months of actual legislative activities means:

First, there will be no action taken toward amendment of the Esch-Cummins Railroad Supervision bill until 1924. Second, only the Lenroot-Anderson and Capper bills will be negotiated to aid the farmers. Third, the Ship Subsidy faces certain death and shipping will have to be handled in the new, 1924 Congress, if at all.

By WILLIAM J. LOSH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHAPTER IV

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 (United Press).—Congress' reaction to the clamor of both factions in the present uproar over the immigration law will probably be to defer all action of any kind at least until 1924, it appeared here today.

Beset on one hand by a group of interests which demands the undoing of the work Congress felt necessary two years ago, and on the other by a class which, while restrictionist, begs for a new kind of restriction the inevitable conservatism of the body will dictate continued intensive study of the problem and no action this session.

For the present year, then, if this course is followed, industry must struggle along with its labor shortage as best it can and the race-viewers must continue to view with alarm our present flood of so called "undesirable types" from Southern Europe.

Neither group has as much cause for concern, these statistics for last year would indicate. Late statistics compiled by the Labor Department reveal a cessation of the exodus of laborers. Whatever laborers enter in the immigration flow will thus be a gain to industry. Immigration is increasing slightly from the northern countries—they are using up more of their quota, though there is no corresponding decrease in the flood from the south.

Expect 275,000

Prospects for the flow this year are that out of the 356,995 immigrants admissible, possibly 27,000 will enter. In the past fiscal year 243,953 were admitted. The gain will come from the Northern European countries.

President Harding has recommended to Congress the adoption of a selective immigration law, whereby immigration would be subjected to examination in foreign ports before they embark for this country. Secretary of Labor Davis has prepared the bill, and it will shortly be submitted to Congress.

Chairman Albert Johnson, Washington, of the House Immigration Committee has proposed a "600" minimum plus 2 per cent restriction law.

HERRIN DEFENDANTS JUDGED NOT GUILTY IN FIRST OF CASES

Marion, Ill., Jan. 19.—After nearly 27 hours deliberation a jury of Williamson county farmers today delivered a verdict of not guilty in the first case resulting from the killing of non-union workers during the Herrin riots last June.

The end of the long trial came suddenly that both spectators and the defendants who were charged with the murder appeared dazed. As Judge D. C. Martwell finished reading the last verdict, the only sound that broke the silence in the court room, was a half smothered laugh from one of the defendants.

Spring Housecleaning Inaugurated At The County Jail This Week. --- Hatch's Remarks Are Very Destructive --- To The Bedbugs

We feel safe in saying that the most destructive after dinner oratory ever listened to in Clearfield was the recent talk on the Clearfield county jail by Rev. Richard Allen Hatch of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, before the Clearfield Rotary Club.

Rev. Hatch (et)'s "cutting remarks" were primarily responsible for the greatest loss of life in the recent history of Clearfield county, the entire extent of which can be imagined, the impossible of count. In making this observation we approach the subject guardedly and like the spectators at the holocaust with fear and trembling.

But this is the how and why of it all. Some time ago, and following Rev. Hatch's remarks, it will be remembered Sheriff Lowell "took the County Commissioners to jail," and while what they saw there confirmed them in their belief that "the jail was alright," they must have found a lot of things in and about it that were all wrong because they (the Commissioners) resolved to do their spring house cleaning early this year. That

Mother Loses Life By Running Back Into the Building In Attempt to Save Her Children.

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 20.—Eight persons perished in a tenement house fire here early today in which two were injured, one seriously.

The fire started in a club house on the first floor and swept to the third and one-half story tenement on Elm street.

The dead are: Mrs. Angelo DeGloria and her four children, Rose, aged 10; Joseph and Natalie, aged seven and Mary, aged three; Isaac Reysa, aged 70; Romano Reysa, aged 25, and Mrs. Mary Palig, aged 55.

The injured are Angelo DeGloria, with a broken back, and Joseph Garvey, fireman, broken wrist.

Mrs. DeGloria had been rescued from the flames but she eluded the firemen and fled back into the burning structure in search of her children. Later her body and those of her children were found. They told a mute and tragic story of what had happened. She had found the children and attempted to lead them to safety. She lost her way in the dense smoke and started into a kitchen on the third floor. There she gathered her little brood around her and died with the children, strangled by the hot smoke and fire.

Her husband dropped from the third floor, landing on his back on the hard pavement, and is in the hospital in a critical condition.

COOK TRACT MAY NOT BE BOUGHT BY PENNSYLVANIA

The State Forestry Commission has declared acquisition of the Cook forest tract along the Clarion river in Jefferson, Forest and Elk counties as inadvisable at a price of $83 an acre. The Department has a limit for purchase of forest lands and the average price of land purchased has been $2.28 an acre. The Commission refused the request of the McKean. Commissioners to reconsider its action in classifying the 6,654 acres of the Armstrong forest company's land as an auxiliary forest reserve.

SMALL PERCENTAGE OF MURDERERS IN PHILA. CONVICTED

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 20. (U. P.)—One hundred and twenty-six murderers were committed in Philadelphia in 1922 as compared with 101 the previous year, according to Superintendent of Police Mills. This is an increase of approximately 25 per cent. For the 126 murders, 97 arrests were made, with 19 convictions resulting. Eleven bills were dismissed by the grand jury and twelve persons tried for murder were acquitted.

11 INSURGENTS ARE PUT TO DEATH BY IRISH FREE STATE

Dublin, Jan. 20.—Eleven insurgents were executed in Ireland today for offenses against the Free State Government.

Five were executed in Athlone for carrying arms it was officially announced.

Dispatches from Limerick stated two were executed there for train attacks and carrying arms. Four were executed at Tall.

tory where nothing but 15th Amendment beverage was served. This proceeding was repeated many, many times, we are informed, and the resultant bonfire soon grew to such proportions that it attracted quite an army of small boys to the scene, who danced around the flames in ghoulish glee and with clubs, and sticks thrust back into the consuming flame, the army of creeping, crawling little parasites attempting to elbow their way out of the flames thru the snow to a place of safety.

It was great while it lasted, the doings attracting the jail prisoners to the rear windows, who as the flames from the last mattress flickered sputtered and spasmodically lit up the landscape broke forth in song, the harmonious strains of "Auld Lang Syne" ending their vigil as the last flame died down.

Carpenters, painters, plumbers and other workmen, mechanics and artists are and have since been engaged in really making the jail a better place in which to live.

Eternal Vigilance Is Keeping Down Spread Of Contagious Disease

Eternal vigilance upon the part of both parents and health authorities is keeping down the spread of contagion in Clearfield. Secretary Gaulin of the Health Board states that during the past week but four cases of contagious disease were reported to the Board of Health. During the same period four cases were also released from quarantine.

There is at present a total of 16 cases of contagion under quarantine in the town. They are located as follows:

First Ward: Diphtheria 2.
Second Ward: Measles 1, diphtheria 2, scarlet fever 2.
Third Ward: Diphtheria 2, scarlet fever 2.
Fourth Ward: Diphtheria 1, scarlet fever 3.

LOWE MUSIC AND FURNITURE STORE BURN AT PUNKSY

Fire last night inflicted a $30,000 loss in Punkstutawney. The principal building destroyed was the large two-story structure on Mahoning street in the heart of the business district occupied by the Lowe Music company and the Robinson Furniture company. The loss divided between the two firms who owned the building will total about $20,000 and the destruction of small buildings, damage to nearby blocks and tenants will raise the total to near the first named figure.

Both the Lowe company and Robinson's succeeded in saving practically their entire stock. At Lowe's all the pianos and victrolas were gotten out, the only stock consumed being 300 records and some fixtures. Robinson's did almost as well, volunteer helpers carrying out practically all the furniture in the store.

The second floor of the Lowe side was occupied as a dwelling by Mrs. Bessie Rishel and most of her household effects were saved.

The fire was discovered at about 10 o'clock, when the Lowe room at the rear was a mass of flame. The firemen put up a good fight and had the flames out by 12 o'clock.

Hamilton's drug store suffered some damage as did the Punksy hospital and several nearby buildings. A barn containing a hearse was destroyed. The Lowe-Robinson building was built 35 years ago, mostly of pine and it burned fiercely. The owners carried a moderate insurance.

The flames put many electric wires out of commission and for a while a portion of the town was in darkness.

GIRL SCOUT RALLY AT HIGH SCHOOL AT 3 P. M. TOMORROW

Girl Scouts! Future Girl Scouts! Mothers of Girl Scouts! Sisters of Girl Scouts! Mothers of future Girl Scouts! Take notice! You are hereby invited and urged to attend the biggest Girl Scout rally that has ever been held in Clearfield at the High School auditorium on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 21st at 3 o'clock. Miss Laura Holland, regional director of the Girl Scout movement in Pennsylvania, is coming to Clearfield just to conduct this rally and to explain to the people of Clearfield what Girl Scouting means and what it stands for. To mothers particularly this should be a most interesting meeting, although fathers are also welcome.

Clearfield is now an integral part of the national Girl Scout organization which represents an enrollment of more than 100,000 American girls and upwards of 5,000 captains. Under the leadership of Miss Margaret Leighton, director of Clearfield Community Service, nine troops have been organized in Clearfield with a total enrollment of more than 100 girls. The troops meet regularly each week at the Community Service Scout home on Locust street and most of the girls have now passed the fifteen-foot test. The captains are Mrs. W. S. Bouton, Mrs. Clarence Johnston, Mrs. George Brett, Miss Grace Butler, Miss Amelia Butler, Miss Margaret Wilson, Mrs. Charles Chaud. Captains are hereby urged to make sure that their troops are 100 per cent. present at the rally.

Let us make sure that Clearfield will show its interest and appreciation of Miss Holland's visit by packing the High School auditorium on Sunday afternoon. This is your invitation.

LEGISLATURE WILL BE ASKED TO ADD TO STATE PRISONS

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 20. (U. P.)—A bill providing for a new Eastern Penitentiary with farm lands for the convicts, will be introduced in the present session of the legislature at the request of the board of inspectors of the institution. This action, according to the board, is made imperative by the lack of sufficient accommodations at the present prison. The bill will carry with it an appropriation for the purchase of necessary ground.

The Eastern Penitentiary now has 1,700 prisoners, and about 800 cells. Provision will be made at the new institution for sufficient accommodations and also to allow for the employment of every inmate.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The luckiest moonshiner to "shine" around these diggings in many a moon is now on his way to bank in the sunny clime of Southern California, while Clearfield county taxpayers are paying three-fourths of the transportation charges for himself and his good wife to far off Los Angeles.

The fellow in question is Jesse Spencer, a well known character about the southwestern end of the county for many years. Jesse, who had been out on the Pacific slope for some time, sloped back into Pennsylvania several years ago when the I. W. W. became so decidedly unpopular in the far west. We don't know whether Jesse was a "wobblie" or not when he was out there or whether that helped him to get back here or not, but at any rate he was charged with preaching the creed of the "wobblies" quite strenuously after his arrival here for a time.

He located in Sandy township and being of rather a versatile turn of mind when Andy Volstead told us what we could drink and how much, Jesse promptly turned his attention to the lucrative business of moonshining. He turned out what Jesse himself said was the best grade of "shine" produced in the entire region. As proof of Jesse's boast, the trade wore a path to his door, and said path resulted in Jesse's temporary downfall but incidentally provided him free transportation to the edge of the Pacific. (Jesse would have located his place of assignment or consignment even beyond the confines of the Pacific's nearest edge were it not for the fact that he had mislaid his wading boots for the time being.)

But to get back to that path. A snooping minion of the law happened onto the trail or indentation made in the greenward by Jesse's many customers, followed that path even unto the end and finding Jesse ensconced in affluence while dealing out the "hard stuff" at "$2 more per gallon than anyone else was getting by reason of its superior quality," thereupon placed the expert shiner under arrest.

Jesse was brought over to Clearfield and on his promise to do better (not "make" better) in the future, was allowed to return home. Time hung heavily on Jesse's hands and finding it a hard job for an old dog to acquire new tricks, he was soon back at his old camp, chief of which as you will be doubt agree by now, was "making better." He persisted and soon the caravans were stopping at his door as of yore, while the stream of amber colored fluid flowed gently in the direction of the thirsty customer with a corresponding stream of filthy lucre finding its way into Jesse's grasping palms. All good things come to an end finally and envious neighbors were instrumental in having County Detective Snyder call upon the moonshiner and have him again present himself in open criminal court to answer for his short-comings.

Jesse came, he saw and conquered—his emotions long enough to tell Judge Bell, between sobs, that he ought not to be punished for what he had been doing, advancing the following reasons for such belief:—

1. He needed the money.

2. He didn't think he was doing any harm.

3. He made first-class liquor, because he was experienced and knew how.

4. Because his stuff was admittedly superior to any other moonshine made in the entire DuBois region.

5. As proof of statement No. 4 he would inform the Court that all the clubs in DuBois were his customers and were paying him $2.00 per gallon more than they were paying any other moonshiner.

Judge Bell listened patiently to Jesse's tearful wall and then directed that he be fined $100 and costs and serve six months in jail.

Jesse sat down and shed copious tears for a minute or two. When he had again conquered his ready flow of tears the husky old moonshiner arose and said: "Judge, I could get a job 'herding bees' out in Los Angeles, California, and as it would cost $270 to take myself and my wife out there, if the county will put up $150 of that amount I will rustle around and dig up the balance and light out at once for the Pacific coast never more to return to Clearfield county."

At this point County Commissioner Weimer and County Solicitor Woodward, who were present, horned in and informed the Court that Jesse's wife, who is an invalid, was receiving $10 per month from the county and if Jesse was sent to "Bed Bug College" for six months it would mean a greater outlay for the county and if the Court would suspend the jail sentence the county would provide Jesse with the desired $150 and let him be with his bees in the future.

The upshot of the matter was this arrangement was made, Jesse got his $150 and went his way rejoicing. We give this history of the case merely to show in passing that while it is always best to travel in the straight and narrow path, though the road be rocky and hard to follow, some times the way of the transgressor, while not a bed of roses, may lead to land of sunshine and roses if you have to have your feet and toes miles across our American soil to "git that."

There is nothing to be surprised at in the news of today the Germans are watching for an opportunity to overthrow the French invaders and that they have well-laid plans carry out the attempt.

If Germany has been noted for anything at all, it has been treachery, double-dealing and craftiness.

Some may call it brainy, shrewd and cunning, but we feel harsher words better describe the mentality of the German.

We cannot help but remember what France suffered when Germany triumphed over her a half century ago and, had Germany won the conflict which ended in 1918, not only France but all of Europe would today have been paying for the war and every family outside of the imperial empire would have been reduced to sackcloth and ashes. That was their haughty and we must take them at their word.

We have seen enough of conflict, but should she attempt to throw out the invaders, here is hoping that France finishes what the armistice stopped all too soon.

Health conditions in Clearfield are better than for some weeks, although three cases of diphtheria developed within the last seven days. The Board of Health is doing everything in its power to wipe out this scourge and every citizen should aid them.

It would be well right now to give some attention to keeping down flies next summer. This job is strictly up to the property owners and the housewives. If you are a property owner, make up your mind right now to be right on the job next spring with lime and oil for the puddles left when the snow goes off. If you are a housewife, burn all your kitchen refuse such as coffee grains and leftovers, instead of throwing them out the back door.

There is nothing Dutch about the name of Hatch, so we can hardly dub the Rev. Mr. Hatch as "Old Dutch Cleanser," but in view of the activity about the jail the last few days he certainly did start a Spring housecleaning campaign in this city about three months ahead of schedule. Perhaps it was a related Fall housecleaning.

Every day we hear of accidents and near-accidents to the silly persons making up sleighing parties and it occurs to us that on these silly occasions, when everyone is light-hearted and careless, are loaded with possible accidents of the most serious nature.

Correct interpretation of law, although we believe there has been no decision covering the drivers of sleighing parties, would be that they are common carriers and have no right to operate on the state roads without legal permit. We are not going to press this point for it would be a mighty mean man that would put anything in the way of such an enjoyable pastime.

However, it is incumbent on the driver of a sleighing party to protect his passengers, not alone by careful driving and conduct, but by light signals against automobile traffic.

Our public roads are so hilly and twisty that an automobile, without traveling at a high rate of speed, can easily crash into a loaded, slow moving bobsled which has no lights.

If you are going on a sledload insist that lanterns are carried on both the front and rear of the sled and caution everyone on the load to keep their feet and legs away from the lanterns so that the automobile driver can see them and slow up his speed.

The automobile is forced to carry lights, both front and rear, and all vehicles traveling at night should do likewise.

PINCHOT SENDS HIS BUDGET TO PRINTER WITH PLANS MADE

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 20.—The new administration finished its first week today with its cumulative program of "economy, reorganization and prohibition enforcement" well under way. The new budget providing for expenditures during the next two years of twenty-eight million dollars less than that authorized by the 1921 legislature was in the hands of the printer.

Governor Pinchot will take it in person before the Legislature probably next week.

Harrisburg, Jan. 19.—Governor Pinchot tonight sent the first Pennsylvania state budget to the printer, and will ask the legislature for permission to appear before it next week to address the law making body on the budget and what it means. Beyond saying that the budget would be for a total of less than 29 million dollars and cover everything payable out of the general fund the governor declined to forecast the measure. "I intend to outline the whole matter to the legislature," he said. The governor said he could not say how many state employees would be dismissed.

Instead of showing through appropriation bill after appropriation bill in the closing hour of the session after an open session of log-rolling and endless wrangle, the 1923 legislature is to be asked to get down to considering a general appropriation bill early in the session. Furthermore that bill will preclude everything else and will take half the spool out of the life of every member who has his three or four bills to introduce proposing a "few thousands" for this or that institution. This is in fact the meaning of today's budget announcement.

The general opinion is that the new method of paying for charities in basis of service rendered described in this column more than a month ago, is to be the basis on which this feature of state activity will be handled.

The Governor, it is believed, has settled on a lump sum which can be devoted to charities. Who gets the money and how much depends on who writes the service and how much. If it can be one case, the effect will be felt in every section of the state. He did indicate, however, that no budget, except possibly the first national, had received more attention and thought than the one he proposes to submit. He referred specifically to the thousands of dollars worth of compiling and study done on this subject by experts since last May. The money for this came from private contributions. It is against such a formidable array of facts and figures that Capitol Hill Department heads strive in vain to establish their alibis and it is such a carefully planned scheme that legislative opposition will encounter. The chief also made it plain that this is not a budget bill. That is to some later. Under Pennsylvania laws a Governor may or may not submit a budget. There is nothing to compel nor prevent. The fate of proposition will rest with the Legislature. It may do as it sees fit but the general impression is that it will be reported out of committee and passed.

In addition to his "budgeteering" the Governor named Paul W. Houck as temporary chairman of the Compensation Board and promoted Lewis

MRS. WILSON HOOVER DIES AT FARM HOME

Mrs. Harriett A. (Dinges) Hoover died at her home in Cooper township on Thursday, Jan. 11th, aged 73 years, 1 month and 6 days. Two of her brothers James D. and John Dinges, passed away within the past six months. The deceased was born at Grahamsport. On May 22, 1870, she was united in marriage to Wilson Hoover, the couple at once moving to the farm home in Cooper township, where they have since resided continuously, a period of over fifty-two years.

Besides the husband, who has passed his eightieth milestone in his journey through life, Mrs. Hoover is survived by two sons, Walter, of Williamsport and Oscar at home and a daughter, Laura, wife of W. P. Meeker of Clearfield, Pa. The following brothers and sisters are also living: Lincoln, of Peale; Mrs. Clara Moyer, of Viaduct; Mrs. L. Steinback, of Munson; Mrs. John Hoover, of near Munson and Mrs. Theodore Hoffman, of Morris township.

A good christian woman and a faithful member of the Methodist church for sixty years Mrs. Hoover was held in high esteem in her home community where she was so well and favorably known. She was a faithful wife and an affectionate and loving mother, as well as a worthy neighbor, ever ready and willing to extend a helping hand or perform an act of kindness. Her death is mourned by a large circle of friends.

Funeral services were held at the Hoover home on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 14th and were in charge of her pastor E. L. Ritzman. Burial was made in Sylvan Grove cemetery.

E. Staley, one of his mainstays in the Forestry Department, to be deputy commissioner. Staley is a department veteran with 17 years' service. The Governor is going to be on the job tomorrow in his office and has a number of state officials scheduled to meet with him.

THERE SHOULD BE NO MISUNDERSTANDING

Dear Editor:

Not wishing to get into a controversy over the LaPenna case quoted by Com. Nelson of the V. F. W. when we have one over in the hospital now on the broad of his back, one in Berwindale mentally unbalanced, and one in Bradford Twp, who is mentally ill, neither of whom have ever been able to get a cent of compensation, who need help now more than our friend LaPenna does. We must say for Com. Nelson's benefit that Government channels for help are very slow, but they are finally being cleared up and will work out.

At least 200 cases of compensation and vocational training are being taken care of in this vicinity, with pay ranging from $15.00 to $150.00 a month. Every month personal contact is made in these cases by a nurse or placement officer of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

Dutch Brienze was immediately taken up thru the Secretary of the Veterans' Claim Committee of the Am. Legion and in two days was in the Philadelphia Hospital for the mentally unbalanced ex-service men. Only one case of merit can be recalled by the Secretary that has not been taken care of, but it is thru a misunderstanding and not neglect.

The people of Clearfield have never refused to give assistance to ex-service men when asked, if the case merited assistance.

LaPenna was not a Clearfield county man; he was receiving full vocational of at least $80.00 a month while here. He was placed in training in Cambria County and wanted transferred here to Clearfield which transfer was made by the Veterans' Bureau. It was indeed to be deplored when LaPenna lost his mind but it was not thru neglect. He was examined by doctors every three months, and receiving full pay. The Veterans Bureau sent a nurse here to take LaPenna to Patton, Pa., but his brother had taken him up the day before the nurse got here.

Of the 4,000,000 men that were in the service, a certain amount are isolated and only come to light when they become mentally unbalanced or thru death.

The Government will only recognize the Red Cross, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Am. Legion in taking these cases up.

It is better to try and hunt some unfortunate buddy up and help him.

Tom Sims SAYS--

If there were no cuss words, how would you talk about the weather? Everything has its place, except taken care of to the utmost, even though the unfortunate has lost his mind thru his experience, and bring it before the public, and misrepresent the facts thru a misunderstanding which should not have existed. LaPenna was not neglected and he should have been sent to Phila. Asylum instead of the County Home, as he was supposed to have been, but wasn't.

In closing would say if any ex-service man has a claim or any one knows of some exservice man in need, get in touch with a member of the Am. Legion, Veterans Foreign War, the Red Cross or John Bain. Thank you.

HOW ENGLAND SOLVED RAIL PROBLEM

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.
Member of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.
Copyright, 1912, Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR JANUARY 21

THE PRODIGAL SON

LESSON TEXT—Luke 15:11-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.—Luke 15:10.
PRIMER—Rom. 8:1-11, Gal. 6:1-5.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Father's Love.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Picture of the Heavenly Father's Love.
EXTENSIVE TOPIC—The Reality and Power of Our Father's Love.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How to Treat Sinners.

I. The Son's Insubordination (v. 12).
There is every indication that this was a happy home. But a devil entered it and stirred up discontent in the heart of the younger son. He became tired of the restraints of home. His desire for freedom moved him to willfully choose to leave home—throw off the constraints of his father's rule. His like desire to be free from the restraints of rightful authority and for selfish indulgence. It starts out with wrong thoughts about God. At the request of the son, the father "divided unto them his living."

II. The Son's Departure (v. 13).
Having made the final decision he got his goods in portable shape. Having thrown off the restraints of his father's rule he eagerly withdrew from his father's presence. This is always the way sin works. He "gathered all together." When the sinner casts off his allegiance to God he takes all that he has with him. He not only wastes his money, but his character is sacrificed.

III. The Son's Degeneration (v. 13-14).
He had a good time while his money lasted, but the end came quickly. The indications are that his course was one of dissipation. From plenty in his father's house to destitution in the far country was a short journey. The sinner is soon made to realize the famine when his very powers which ministered to his pleasure are burned out.

IV. The Son's Degradation (v. 15, 16).
He had no friends to help him when his money was all gone, so he was driven to hire out to a citizen to feed swine. "It was quite a change from a sonship in his father's house to feeding swine in the far country. So it is; those who will not serve God are made slaves to the devil to do his bidding (Rom. 6:16). In his shame and disgrace the prodigal could not even get the necessary food. The coarse food of the hogs was denied him.

V. The Son's Restoration (v. 17-24).
I. He Came to Himself (v. 17).
When he reflected a bit he was made conscious that, though he had wronged his father and ruined himself, yet he was a son of his father. In the days of his sinning he was beside himself. The world calls the sinner who leaves off his evil ways crazy, but in reality he just becomes sane. If we could but get sinners to think seriously of their condition it would be more easy to get them to turn from their sins.

2. His Resolution (v. 18). His resolution ripened into resolution. The picture of his home, where even the hired servants had a superabundance, moved him to make a decision to leave the far country and go home.

3. His Confession (v. 18, 19). He acknowledged that his sin was against heaven, and his father—that he had forfeited his right to be called a son, and begged to be given a place as a hired servant. The sinner not only should make a resolution; he should confess his sin; for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

4. His Action (v. 20). Action was needed. Resolution will not avail unless accompanied with action.

5. His Reception by His Father (v. 20-24). The father had not forgotten his son. During the years he longed for his return. He must often have looked for him, for he saw him when he was a great way off. So anxious was he for him that he ran to meet him and fell upon his neck and kissed him. So glad was the father that he even did not hear his confession through, but ordered the tokens of honor to be placed upon him, receiving him back into a son's position. This parable makes bare God's heart. Every teacher should strive to present this lesson so as to show God's forgiving mercy—His willingness to receive back His wayward child.

Two Classes.
The race is divided into two classes those who go ahead and do something, and those who sit still and inquire, "Why wasn't it done the other way?"—O. W. Holmes.

INTRODUCTION OF THE NEW FRANKLIN 4-DOOR SEDAN PRODUCES OVER-DEMAND

The national introduction of the Franklin 4-door sedan, taking place at every Franklin dealership point during the month of January, has its climax in a countrywide exhibition, centering around January 20. The importance of this event is borne out by the special display and demonstration program now being staged by the Market Street Auto Sales Co., Franklin dealer here.

The first appearance of this model, which has the distinction of being entirely new in the Franklin line, occurred at the New York Show last week and has recorded a success which has already created an over-demand at the big Franklin factory in Syracuse.

The new body style is marked by beauty of line common to the 1923 Franklin cars. The outstanding design features are the straight front, the four doors and the increase in roominess apparent in both front and rear compartments. The body is lower and its extra width makes possible seating space for three people both front and rear. The four-door sedan is designated as a five-passenger car, however. The principle of light weight has undergone further development in this latest Franklin, a reduction of fifty pounds having been made over the 1922 sedan. The fittings of the new body, which are done in polished duralumin with jet inlay, have been commented on as a new note in automobile detail.

While it has been generally known that Franklin was the first manufacturer to build a sedan in regular course of production, it has only recently come to light that the idea which encouraged the move developed twelve years ago during the automobile show of 1911. At that time, Franklin designers just returned from London and Paris shows, were struck by the predominance of open cars at New York, contrasted with the noticeable development of the closed car in Europe. A year or so later at the Boston show, the first Franklin sedan made its appearance and from that time on, output of this type at the Franklin factory has grown until, during the past year, it has represented 39 per cent. of Franklin's total production.

Among closed cars, the Franklin sedan enjoys the reputation of having unequalled touring ability. With the new model recently announced, an increase in power and speed has been secured, which is contributing to the popularity of the latest model. The Franklin with its pressure air-cooling system, is the one car whose sedan type provides complete weather protection of passengers and motor alike.

that Franklin was the first manufacturer to build a sedan in regular course of production, it has only recently come to light that the idea which encouraged the move developed twelve years ago during the automobile show of 1911. At that time, Franklin designers just returned from London and Paris shows, were struck by the predominance of open cars at New York, contrasted with the noticeable development of the closed car in Europe. A year or so later at the Boston show, the first Franklin sedan made its appearance and from that time on, output of this type at the Franklin factory has grown until, during the past year, it has represented 39 per cent. of Franklin's total production.

Among closed cars, the Franklin sedan enjoys the reputation of having unequalled touring ability. With the new model recently announced, an increase in power and speed has been secured, which is contributing to the popularity of the latest model. The Franklin with its pressure air-cooling system, is the one car whose sedan type provides complete weather protection of passengers and motor alike.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—[Broad] of England, Wales and Scotland have just been amalgamated under the new railroad law into four great systems. Eighteen large and many small railroads are included. The transfer and amalgamation took place Jan. 1. The entire work will be completed by July.

All Britain is lauding the new law claimed to be the most enlightened, progressive and fair railroad bill ever passed by a modern state. Unlike the Esch-Cummings bill in the states, the British bill has drawn commendation from railroad owners, employees and users alike.

The bill was the direct outcome of England's experience during the war when the government took over the roads. It also aimed to compromise between owners who wanted complete control of their property and radicals who wanted the roads nationalized.

Eliminates Wasteful Competition
As passed by Parliament the bill was designed to eliminate wasteful competition—cost of which had to be paid by the consumer—and to give control so as to provide for economy good service and cheapness.

High speed provisions of the bill: RATES—To regulate both passenger and freight rates there is a rates tribunal composed of a lawyer chairman, an expert representing the railroads, and an expert representing the business men. The main function is from time to time to fix the standard charges. The standard revenue for each railway group is to be taken as the sum of its actual net revenues for 1913.

The standard charges are to be fixed so as to enable each group railway to earn this standard revenue, plus five per cent on capital that may have been expended since 1913. But receipt of this net revenue depends upon the efficiency and service given. If earnings exceed the standard

Can America Learn From England?

What's wrong with the railroads?

This comprehensive story by Milton Bronner, tells how England solved the problem by passing an amalgamation act which is called one of the most enlightened railroad bills ever passed.

Can a somewhat similar solution be applied to American lines?

HOW BRITISH RAILROADS HAVE BEEN AMALGAMATED

Under the new railroad law British railroads have been amalgamated into these four companies:

SOUTHERN RAILWAY. Serving southern and western England. Have practical monopoly on Channel resorts and Continental boat trains. Mileage, 2200; equipment 2270 locomotives, 10,604 passenger coaches and 38,433 freight cars.

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY. Serves west and middle England, including such cities as Birmingham, Bath, Bristol, Manchester, Plymouth, Liverpool etc.

LONDON, MIDLAND AND SCOTTISH RAILWAY. Serves 32 of the 40 counties of England and most of Scotland. Artery from coal fields. Owns 34 hotels and ship lines to northern Europe.

LONDON AND NORTH-EASTERN RAILWAY. Serves Eastern England and Scotland. Monopoly on textile cities and on great port cities of Tyne, Wear and Tees. Mileage, 7000; equipment, 7500 locomotives, 21,000 coaches and 300,000 freight cars.

reduced charges or improved facilities.

LABOR RELATIONS—Each railway is to have one or more councils consisting of company and employee representatives. Under this arrangement, one railway council and not more than five sectional railway councils, with local departmental committees for the discussion of local matters have been set up for each railway group. They consider matters of rates of pay, hours of duty and conditions of service and kindred subjects.

WAGES—Two tribunals are set up. First the Central Wages Board with appeal available to the National Wages Board. The Central Wages Board is made up of eight representatives of the companies and eight employees, four being named by the National Union of Railwaymen, two by the Society of Engineers and Firemen and two by the Railway Clerks Association.

The National Wages Board is made up of six representatives of the railway companies; six representatives of the employees (two from each of the unions above mentioned) and four from the users of the railways.

One each of these is named by the Parliamentary Committee of the Trades Union Congress, by the Cooperative Union, by the Association of British Chambers of Commerce and by the Federation of British Industries.

This body is to be presided over by a chairman named by the minister of labor.

The Sacred Emerald.
The emerald is one of the most beautiful of precious stones, and some of the finest specimens come from Peru. Among the ancient peoples of that country the stone was regarded as sacred.

To Harness the Jordan.
One of the great undertakings for reuniting Palestine is to use the swift current of the Jordan from Mount Hermon to the Dead sea to furnish electrical power for lights, railways, industrial and irrigation purposes.

Mankind's Failing.

23-YEAR-OLD "MOTHER" OF 128 BABIES!

Gives Up Youthful Pleasures to Head Orphanage

By JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT.
NEA Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Twenty-three years old and 128 babies to cuddle, feed and clothe!

That's the task confronting May Weisser, youthful superintendent of the Israel Orphan Asylum, who almost without warning, was whisked out of the institution's offices where for three years she served as a bookkeeper and told that henceforth the responsibility for the entire institution would be in her hands.

And without a regret for the parties, the good times, the clothes which other girls of her age consider indispensable, Miss Weisser has buckled down to the business of mending broken hearts and wiping the noses of the little homeless children of New York's East Side.

"Not a bit of it," smiles the exceedingly attractive young woman who, if looks and charm and disposition count for anything, requires none of Mr. Coles' self-improving devices.

"Every woman wants a home and here I have one all ready for me with 128 children in it. I'm going to make it a real home, too—with bird cages and window boxes and everything."

The bird cages and window boxes along with diminutive tables, nursery pictures, Dutch blue china and other paraphernalia which Miss Weisser considers every orphan's rightful heritage are already being installed in the asylum. And so successful have her devices been that older and much larger institutions have written to ask her how she does it.

MISS MAY WEISSER, 23-YEAR-OLD ORPHAN ASYLUM SUPERINTENDENT.

It was Justice Gustave Hartman, faithfulness over small things, who recommended Miss Weisser to handle other people were some of the qualities which he enumerated.

Woman Identifies Deputy Sheriff As One Of Hooded Gang

Bastrop, La., Jan. 20.—Mrs. B. Carlisle today positively identified T. Burnett, former Deputy Sheriff, a life long acquaintance as one of the black hooded mob that kidnapped Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards and three others shortly before the murder of Daniel and Richards.

This identification, the third in the "mob terror" probe here came as a climax of startling facts in the last twenty-four hours in Northern Louisiana, including the shooting of John Parker, Jr., a former Sheriff, alleged by Perry Calhoun, a witness in the open hearing.

Parker died today, authorities state. Their advice did not state definitely what the immediate cause of the shooting was.

MORRISDALE FOLKS IN DOUBLE SOCIAL EVENT

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Luther, Sr., of Morrisdale, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on Tuesday, January 9, 1923, and on the same day, at 9 o'clock in the morning, their daughter, Miss Mary, was united in marriage to Steve Blasko, of Philipsburg.

The wedding ceremony took place in St. Agnes Catholic church at Morrisdale, the Rev. E. J. Fischer performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Annie Luther and the groomsmen were John Blasko.

Attired in a silk satin dress, trimmed in georgette, the bride looked very pretty. Her mother, the bride of 25 years ago, wore a navy blue suit.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the Luther home. Many pretty and useful gifts came to the bride, and congratulations were showered upon the newlyweds as well as upon the bride's parents in completing twenty-five years of their wedded life.

It is the wish of the friends of the newlyweds that when they celebrate their silver anniversary the parents of the bride will be with them again and as happily enjoy their golden wedding anniversary.

Water If Kidneys Hurt

Take a tablespoonful of Salts If
Back pains or Bladder
bothers.

Too much meat may produce uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid; they become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys "acide" and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back, or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning, and in a few days your kidneys may set fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to help neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to help to keep the kidneys clean and active. Drink plenty of water at all times.
